Mindful Movement for an Effortless Practice

2 separate half-day Feldenkrais® workshops with Ellen Sevy, GCFP

A Fresh Look At “Downward Facing Dog”

- Learn new ways to feel lighter and more pliable in your chest and shoulders.
- Experience how to better balance your weight between your hands and feet.
- Reduce joint and muscle strain, allowing this pose to become one you can more easily rest in, hold, or transition through.

This workshop is appropriate for all those who practice or want to practice yoga.

Grounding Your Standing Poses

Learn how to bring strength and balance to your standing poses with less force. Your feet are your foundation and your skeleton the scaffolding for all standing asanas. Old injuries and lack of movement education can contribute to uncomfortable and stressful postures. No matter what your level of practice, you can improve your standing poses .
